

INVITATION

The directorate and the physicians of Hévíz Medicinal Spa and Saint Andrew Hospital for Rheumatic Diseases have long been planning the organization of a scientific conference with a special focus on our special therapeutic possibilities, highlighting the use of the medical mud and all other related activities, including production, proper use of its ingredients, possible marketing, the medical positioning of the mud, and all other respective topics and benefits such as professional networking, cooperation, information share, R&D exchange.

We request the pleasure of your company at
III. Hévíz International Medical Mud Scientific Conference
and
I. Movement Analysis Conference

- Scheduled date of the conference: 15-16. May 2020.
Location: Hévíz, Hungary
Details: The conference will be held on Friday and Saturday including the professional and social events.
Accommodation and program: The registration fee includes participation in the scientific programme, coffee breaks, 2 lunches, the Gala dinner and the hotel accommodation in the beautiful town of Hévíz, even after the event if needed for extra fee. Besides the scientific program of the conference, we wish to provide our guests with site visit, and, of course, the pleasure of enjoying our fabulous bath.
Travel: Participants pay the travel costs themselves.
Official languages: Hungarian, English
Presentations: Please be advised to send a debrief of your talk (topic, timing) ASAP, then send your full paper (dates to be issued) so that we can distribute it among the participants in due time.
