CSRS-ES would like to announce the IX Hands on Cadaver Course taking place October 28th and 29th in Barcelona, Spain. The course, graded an overall “excellent” by participants, combines the unique experience of theoretical classes with hands on practice taught by distinguished faculty members of CSRS-ES. Young surgeons benefit by learning invaluable techniques then practicing shoulder to shoulder with some of Europe’s finest surgeons. The course is held at the well-known and highly respected University of Barcelona’s Faculty of Medicine laboratories. The price for the course is a modest 800 Euros which includes the course, hotel, working meals and transportation to and from the course facilities.
