ISE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Dear Members of the International Society of Endocrinology,

Last week we informed you that the ISE General Assembly Meeting will be held online on 20th October 2020 even though the ISE Congress has been postponed to 2021.

We would like to enhance and facilitate the participation of all our members around the world in the meeting as much as possible. Therefore, we have added a second time slot on 20th October which will be more convenient for countries in

EUROPE
ASIA and
AUSTRALIA and OCEANIA

You are free to review both time slots and choose which will be more suitable for you or your society representative. All documents will be sent to you in advance prior to the meeting so you will be able to review them and prepare any comments or questions.

Do not forget to add the meeting to your calendar! We look forward to meeting you then!

Check your local time for both slots and register for the one more suitable for you!

TIME SLOT: North America, Central America, South America, Europe/night-time
